

Korea Re-Imagining the City

Gallery 2 November 5 - December 11, 2011

Korea- Australia Exchange Exhibition: Korea_Re-imagining the city Contemporary Korean Media Art about cities and change

An exhibition from the Seoul Museum of Art presented as part of the Korean Australian Year of Friendship in response to Australia_Digital Urban Portraits. Drawn primarily from the SeMA collection, this exhibition will provoke thought about how the city is recognised and what relationship it has with the environment in the 21st century. This exhibition carries the artists' perspectives, in which they consider urban space as not materialistically composed of buildings, but space that is inseparable from the environment; continually accumulating historic events. The exhibition presents the artists point of view and how they try to transform an urban environment via their imagination.
